

Just A Little Bit Of Love

Music by Christian Willisohn
Lyrics by Alexandra Mayer

Stormy season, I've felt the rain
I love to hear the sound, On my window pain.

Too many dark clouds, Seem to call my name
I'm longing for sunshine, In my heart again.

Am I too sophisticated?
Are my wishes out of range?

Just a little bit of love, Just a little bit of love
That's what I'm longing for
I never asked for more

Just a little bit of love, Just a little bit of love
Maybe a little more faith
That's what I'm dreaming of

So many words, remain unspoken
so many thoughts, they turned out broken.

All my trust, Given away
But all my hopes, Are here to stay.

Am I too sophisticated?
Are my wishes out of range?

Just a little bit of love, Just a little bit of love
That's what I'm longing for
I never asked for more

Just a little bit of love, Just a little bit of love
Maybe a little more faith
That's what I'm dreaming of

Just a little bit of love.
